“ Chabot Clan, so sorry to hear about Freddy. He was always one of my favorites, watching him play with my dad and grandpa for so many years. Such a fierce and feared ball player, with such a jovial and bright personality. What a terrific patriarch for the Chabot family. I'm glad I got to see him a couple years back when I was in town and he stopped by the furniture store. I believe I gave his sister some old newspaper articles when I was in the Wightman office, and one was a spotlight of him and the Chabot family in the herald palladium. I hope she has shared them with you all. I will always cherish my days spent at the ballfields with the Chabots.

His cowhide batting gloves were iconic.

“ I have seen Fred sitting in his lawn chair at so many ISC,ASA and major club tournaments across North America. I always stopped to shake his hand and talk but never knew his name. Last year in Wisconsin he was perched near the foul pole in right field and I finally asked him his name. When he told me I said "How come you are always wearing that NY Gremlins hat?" He replied "Because they gave it to me" . He was one of the great fans of the game, I call them the 'fence sitters'...he was also a gentleman and loved to sit and watch, generally by himself but always studying the game. I am so sorry to hear of his passing, he must have been quite a man, both for his family and his country he was a hero. I told him last August I would look forward to seeing him this year and I would bring him another hat ! May God smile on Fred, and may he always have a lawn chair to watch the games from a better place. Sincere condolences to Fred's family, community of friends and the many soldiers who served beside him.

“ Larry, unfortunately, it sounds like you only knew Freddy as the spectator and not the competitor. He was a world class first baseman and hitter for many of my family's Plangger's Furniture & Eagle Pak teams. Wow was he a fiery character on the field. Often causing quite a commotion and dust cloud on the diamond. But the most calm, cool, and collected man outside the fences. I would certainly say he would much rather be on the ballfield, then watching along the fence line. I assume he got the N.Y. Gremlins hat from Nick McCurry. The two of them and my dad were all very close friends and competitors.

“ To many to share. Literally thousands of games together playing Fastpitch Softball. He always had your back on the field. A true ambassador and warrior to our game. Going to miss swapping stories covering over 45 years of ball that we played. Rest In Peace Fred.

“ I remember when my Aunt Lin and Fred started dating. My sister and I would hide when he came around because we were in awe of him. Because of them I have beautiful, caring and wonderful cousins. I really didn't get to spend a lot of time with him since we live in SC, but the main thing that I will miss is his wonderful smile and laugh.

“ So sorry to hear of Fred's passing. He would always help my grandmother, Geneva, with anything he could around her house growing up, and was a great guy. My sincere condolences to the family. He will be missed.

“ I'm his niece who watched him and Aunt Lin through dating years. I had the biggest crush on him. I thought they were the most beautiful couple! They were! He was the fun Uncle! Always taking us places and spending time with us. My heart is full thinking of him seeing my brother in heaven. They loved one another. Prayers for my Aunt Lin and my cousins.

“ Fred was my cousin and will be remembered always as a handsome, talented and caring family man. His building skills were amazing and his softball abilities helped to win many championships. He and Linda created a wonderful family and through them, Fred will always live on. Blessings to you all.
