“ Memories, for at least 47 years. Swimming in the stream with you and Ron and I could only float, but you could swim better than me but said that you could not float. You, Ron, and I playing on swings and slides. You and I being pulled over by a police officer on our way from Branch to Flint--or was it the Genisee area? (The officer said we were going 80 mph). Your car on the side of the road with the hood up, you and I under the hood with a screw driver trying to get whatever gear or something to slip or go into where it needed to go so that we could drive on.

You and I spending time knitting and crocheting. You even showed me a new way to knit hats with both you and I being over age 50. We're never too old to learn. I expect you to teach me more when I see you in Heaven.

My sister for 46 years, this is not goodbye. I plan on seeing you in Heaven. I love you and miss you.

“ One of my encounters with Glenna, was at Ray Stanley's graduation party at Lee & Gail's house, back in June 94. She was holding my brand new (and only) grandson Aaron James. As soon as she saw Papa & Grandma B (that's me) she couldn't get to us fast enough. She told me, "I was just holding him until you got here, really I was. She handed me Aaron and then we both laughed. I'm so sorry for your loss, she will be missed by many.

Love Judy (Grandma B)
