“ My Aunt Harolyn was, who I called "my favorite aunt" I always loved going to her house to watch cable TV because we did not have it and to watch soap operas with her. Even when I was not the perfect child, she always treated me special and made me feel loved. I always felt safe with her and always wanted her to babysit me. I was always so excited to go to her house. I remember she called my Uncle Marty "Shawn" and she lived for him and her kids. I got a lot of my values from her. I will miss her and I wish I could be there today for her funeral. My daughter had her first air plane flight today and I could not leave her alone to deal with it. My Aunt Harolyn always told me to be there completely for my kids. I love her and miss her. Rest in Peace Aunt Harolyn.

“ I was just thinking about Harolyn last week. I haven't seen Harolyn in many years. But as a young girl she befriended me and a few times a year we'd get together and bake some peanut butter cookies. And as my mother grew older Harolyn found the time to stop in now and then and visit. Mamma always liked those visits. Harolyn was a kind and caring woman and will be missed by many.
