“ Just got back from a trip to Fairfield. Saw most of our friends, George now understands why we moved and accepts it. The trips back there always makes me miss you even more than I do. You are why I was there. And with out you there I just don't want to be there. I never knew what was in store for me when you left but half of me is gone. That void will never be filled. Love you and miss you. Sandy

“ It just dawned on my Bill. A little late, but you're used to that with me anyway. But now to the point.

I never got the chance to give and have my salute returned by you. I know you will tell me it's no big thing; but I gotta tell ya - it's probably what has been bugging me all this time. So the next time I see the flag, I'll give it then. If you happen to notice, let me drop my arm before I get a cramp. OK?

Thanks Strange.

BTW the Vette is great; you were right there too. (as usual)

“ So sad to have a good friend with whom I served on active duty in San Diego leave us. For years I had been a radioman on submarines and had many amateur radio operators urge me to get my amateur license. My response was "why do I want to do for a hobby that I do for a living?" Then Bill asked me one day to help him install an amateur radio antenna on his Navy quarters and showed me his radio equipment. Well, the bug bit and I got my license! Been having fun with amateur radio ever since ... and it was Bill who introduced me to a different world. Thanks Bill! Sandy, our prayers are with you. Stay strong for we are sure that Bill's spirit is with you.

Bill leaves us with many good memories, thoughts and experiences. As a step-father, he was always there for us--that speaks volumes. Bill was kind, respectful, considerate, giving, well, the list can go on and on. I saw Bill shortly before he passed and his sense of humor and wit were as sharp as ever. Bill was a loving Grandpa as well; he truly enjoyed Cameron and loved him with all his heart. In years to come, Cameron will be told many stories about Grandpa--the hugs, kisses, sweet words, again the list can go on and on. Bill WILL be missed. Even though many tears have been (and will be) shed and sorrow and sadness are felt, at the same time, joy and happiness will live on in my heart. Bill, thank you times infinity.

“ My family and I have been blessed with Bill's and Sandy friendship for many years (15+); and it's an honor for us to have them as part of our extended family. Sandy, both you and Bill are and will always be part of our family, and our lives and we thank God for giving us the blessing of knowing Bill, you, and Bob and hopefully someday we'll meet Dennis. Bill, you are and will always be in our hearts and your memory will always be with us!

“ I'm feeling tossed between sadness and joy, as if I were head-to-wind. Sadness because my shipmate Bill has passed, and joy because I had the chance to know him. He has crossed the finish line having sailed a good race, on proper course, and no protest flags flying. He always afforded me room at the mark, and we always hailed mast abeam when we were together. I shall miss him dearly, and I mark his passing with the respect he never asked for. By your leave Sir.

“ *He will be missed. I worked with Bill in Concord, CA and sat in the cubical across from him. He was always up beat and had a nice word for everyone. Bill reached out to me couple years ago after he and Sandy had moved from CA. At the time I thought I had their email and address. I found out to later that I didn't and I didn't know how to get a hold of them. Sandy helped me with a stainglass project at their house one time. I have fond memories of both Sandy and Bill. “ Dear Sandy and Family,

Bill was such a vibrant and important part of our team at Hewlett-Packard. He was always there 'at the ready' when there was a problem or if you needed him.

There was nothing he wouldn't tackle or attempt to figure out and his wit and sense of humor was invaluable. Bill was a wonderful co-worker, great friend and gentleman through and through.

Please know you will be in my thoughts and prayers.
